

GOTHAM TEUTONS ARRIVE IN THE CITY

Two Hundred German Humanists Here for Fun.

MORE COMING NEXT SUNDAY

Local Bund Resumes Rehearsals, Hoping to Capture First Prize at National Saengerfest Next Year. Tennytown Germans Have Picnic—News of Other Societies.

A delegation of about 200 Germans from New York, the members of the humanistic society, "Pommeschokk," arrived in this city yesterday morning, and will remain here for about four days, seeing the sights. They will pay visits to the German consulates in this city, where "kommers" in their honor will be the order of the day.

The visiting New Yorkers, many of whom are accompanied by their wives, are quartered at the Riggs. They are easily recognized by their rotundity of figure, their smile, their white caps, their badges, bearing the American and German flags, and their accents. They will visit Mount Vernon today, to deposit a wreath on the tomb of Washington, and this evening a "kommers" in honor of the local Plattdeutsche Verein will take place at the Riggs House. Ernst Junghaus is the president of the visiting New Yorkers.

Another Verein Coming.

Another New York society will visit this city next Sunday, the Franz Schubert Gesangsverein, consisting of about 20 members, their headquarters will be the National Hotel. They will be entertained by the Washington Saengerbund at its clubhouse the same evening, after the annual meeting of the society. The full ticket of the Saengerbund, as nominated at the August meeting, will be elected without opposition. John Waldman, who has filled the presidency of the Saengerbund in a most efficient manner for two terms, is a candidate for reelection, having been unanimously nominated for the place.

Jacob Xander, a member of the Saengerbund, entertained its members at his residence, near the Soldiers' Home, yesterday afternoon, the occasion being his thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. John Waldman, president of the Saengerbund, and Adolph Levy, first vice president, made brief speeches of congratulation. The programme was interspersed with solo and chorus selections by the singing section of the Saengerbund.

Weekly rehearsals of the bund were resumed last week, with Prof. Henry Xander, the musical director of the society, in charge. It is the intention to capture first prize at the national Saengerfest, which will take place at New York next year. Rehearsals take place on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

German Picnic in Tennytown.

A genuine old-fashioned German picnic was held by the "Onkel Braess Verein" on Voigt's farm, in Tennytown, yesterday. This year, organized years ago to study German literature of the plattdeutsche, or low German, dialect school, has a large membership. There were speeches, singing, games, and all sorts of popular amusements for young and old, including refreshments of every description.

German Day at Benning.

Preparations for the celebration of German Day at Benning racetrack on September 14 have been almost completed. The United German Societies, under whose auspices this celebration will take place, has issued invitations to the twenty-three societies of the central organization, and it is probable there will be a large attendance. The day will be set aside to commemorate the landing in this country of Franz Daniel Pastorius, 225 years ago, with his party of German immigrants, who founded and settled Germantown, Pa., the first German settlement in America. Prominent speakers will make addresses on the significance of the day, the United Singers will render selections, and the Columbia Turnverein will give gymnastic exhibitions. There will also be horse races, mile races, baseball games, tug-of-war, children's games, and dancing.

The Germania Maennerchor will give a concert and ball at National Riggs.

An extensive musical programme has been prepared, and the Washington Saengerbund, the Germania Maennerchor, and other societies will contribute chorus songs. Among others who will render song numbers are Miss L. Heber, Mrs. F. W. Heibig, Messrs. George Pitt and P. L. Aue, Mrs. Hein, and Miss Eva Patt.

Jahrmarsch Held October 3-10.

Not to be outdone in its efforts toward the conservation of German "gemetheichheit," the Columbia Turnverein is making great preparation for its Jahrmarsch, or fair, to be held at the gymnasium halls October 3 to 10. The purpose of this fair is to raise funds to expand the vermin's school system, and the membership of the society is growing by leaps and bounds, and it is realized that steps must be taken at once to accommodate the gymnastic classes, which are larger this year than ever before. The "Baeren Riege," or men's section, went to Philadelphia yesterday, where they participated at the gymnastic competitions of the United States. The annual meeting and election of officers of the Arion will take place on Sunday evening at their hall in the Diamond Building.

At the monthly meeting of the United German Societies a vote of condolence was passed on account of the death of Baron Speck von Sternburg, the late German Ambassador to the United States, and to assure the charge d'affaires of the sincere sympathy of the United German Societies.

New Game of Tenna.

A new lawn game has been invented in London, and as it can be played with equal enjoyment by both boys and girls, it possesses many claims to popular favor. It can be followed in any season, and by as few as four or as many as fourteen persons at once. Skill, agility, and a good eye are far more requisite than mere physical strength, and the proper manipulation of the wand by means of quick wrist turns develops and renders flexible the muscles of the arms and wrists. A screen of wood or canvas, fixed on a light frame, and having in the center a circular aperture of eighteen inches in diameter, is erected. Behind the hole is fixed a bag net, and the main object of the players, who stand some distance away, is to throw a number of colored balls, by means of the wand, into this bag. The wand has at one end a peculiarly shaped crook for holding the ball, but some little skill is necessary to retain the ball in it for the purpose of making the throw. The number of "pot balls" to be scored by each side before it can complete the first stage of the game corresponds with the number of players on each side. When either side has scored the number of "pot balls" agreed upon, it enters upon the second stage, and it at once obtains a single "zone" ball. Whichever side then first succeeds in scoring its "zone ball" wins the game.

10,000 AT ENCAMPMENT.

Forty-second Annual G. A. R. Meet Begins To-day.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 30.—That the forty-second annual encampment of the G. A. R. promises to be an unequalled success is evidenced by the fact that during the day no less than 10,000 visitors have arrived and been given the glad hand of welcome by the people of Toledo. This afternoon the California delegation, 500 strong, came in on a special train of fifteen coaches. Accompanying this delegation from the Coast were the Nevada folks.

Representatives from Utah, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana, and Ohio are also on the ground in readiness for the opening of the encampment to-morrow. In the morning the old soldiers from Florida and other Southern States are scheduled to put in an appearance.

It is estimated that the attendance throughout the week will be at least 200,000. To-night the streets of Toledo present a gala appearance. In addition to the lavish display of flags and bunting there are numerous electric illuminations and the thoroughfares are lined with people.

Grand Army politics is already beginning to make itself manifest.

Off For Convention

G. A. R. Veterans Depart for Toledo, Ohio.

Officers in the Delegation

More Than One Hundred Members of the Department of the Potomac to Represent Washington at the Big Gathering—Judge Taft and Senator Dick to Review Parade Wednesday.

More than 100 veterans of the civil war, members of the delegation from Washington to the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Toledo, Ohio, this week, left this city yesterday morning at 8 o'clock on a special Baltimore and Ohio train. They arrived at Toledo at 11 o'clock last night.

Accompanying the boys of '61 were their wives and daughters, who are members of the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Veterans, ex-Prisoners of War, National Association of American Nurses, and National Naval Veterans' Union.

These organizations will hold their annual conventions this week at Toledo, and will aid in entertaining the old soldiers.

On Wednesday morning veterans from all sections of the United States, some still hale and hearty, others with cane and crutches, and others with artificial limbs, bearing shot-riddled standards and flags, will parade the streets of the Ohio town.

The report is that the city is wild with enthusiasm over the prospects of entertaining the remnants of what was once the finest army in the world.

The encampment opens to-night with a reception given by the citizens and women's committees, followed by the entertainment of the evening, called "Venetian Night." To-morrow morning will be the civic parade, and to-morrow afternoon the dedication of the Fort Meigs monument will take place. To-morrow night the Woman's Relief Corps will give a reception to Commander-in-Chief Burton, of the G. A. R., and camp fires will be held by the prisoners, naval veterans, and G. A. R.

At the big parade Wednesday morning William Howard Taft, Republican nominee for President, and Senator Dick, of Ohio, will occupy seats on the reviewing stand. On Wednesday evening there will be camp fires held in every available hall.

The business sessions of the various organizations will be held Thursday and Friday. Saturday will be devoted to excursions and entertainments. The headquarters of the G. A. R. will be at the Boody House, while the headquarters of most of the other organizations will be at the Secor Hotel.

Among the addresses to be made will be those of Gov. Willson, of Kentucky; Lieut. Gov. Murphy, of Pennsylvania; Senator Forsaker, of Ohio, at the Meigs house; Joseph T. Dyer, adjutant general, Kansas City, Mo.; Charles Burrows, former Gov. of Van Sant, of Minnesota; Gen. J. Warren Keifer, of Ohio, and Bishop Fallows, of Chicago.

The officers of the Grand Army of the Republic are: Charles G. Burton, commander-in-chief, Kansas City, Mo.; L. E. Griffith, senior vice commander-in-chief, Troy, N. Y.; W. M. Scott, junior vice commander-in-chief, Atlanta, Ga.; J. Lane, assistant quartermaster general, Baltimore; Rev. Samuel Fallows, chaplain-in-chief, Chicago; C. D. R. Stowitt, inspector general, Buffalo, N. Y.; L. W. Collins, judge-advocate general, Minneapolis; J. T. Dyer, adjutant general, Kansas City, Mo.; Charles Burrows, quartermaster general, Rochester, N. Y.; W. Les Goss, national patriotic instructor, Rochester, N. Y.; J. C. Wiggins, aide-camp and chief of staff, Toledo, Ohio; J. Henry Holcomb, custodian of records, Philadelphia.

The party that left Washington in the morning, headed by department commander John G. Walker, department commander Edwin H. Holbrook, senior vice commander; Henry A. Johnson, junior vice commander; O. H. Oldroyd, assistant adjutant general; Francis L. McKenna, assistant quartermaster general; John G. Maynard, chief messenger officer; H. F. Chase, chief of staff; Newton Faj, past department commander; Maj. L. P. Williams, representatives L. H. Patterson, H. M. Bennett, D. W. Beach, and R. E. Grant. Past Department Commander A. P. Tasker, I. G. Kimball, Edward Webster, and Louis P. Seibold, Emma L. Newton, president department W. R. C.; past department presidents (W. R. C.) Isabel Worrell Ball, Lida A. Oldroyd, Ida L. Chase, and Cora L. Smith, Emma P. Hayward, secretary Daughters of Veterans.

The Washington party was joined at Baltimore by the delegation from the Department of Maryland. F. L. McKenna, assistant quartermaster general of the Department of the Potomac, provided much of the train for the Washington delegation.

ASPHYXIAATION ENDS LIFE OF A PRIVATE

Alton Purtell, Marine Corps, Found Dead.

ACCIDENTALLY TURNED ON GAS

Had Served in the Office of Gen. Elliott, Commandant, in the Mills Building—Education and Ability Attracted Attention of Superiors. Came Here from Atlanta, Ga.

Alton Purtell, twenty-six years old, a private in the United States Marine Corps, was found dead in bed at his room, 1208 H street northwest, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Death was due to asphyxiation.

Coroner Nevitt made an investigation, and gave a certificate of accidental death. The body was turned over to Undertaker Scott, of 408 Eighth street southeast, to be prepared for burial.

Although an enlisted man, Purtell was an expert stenographer, and for a number of months had been detailed for duty in the office of Gen. Elliott, commandant of the Marine Corps, in the Mills Building. He was not required to wear a uniform, and did not live at the barracks.

Purtell reached his room late Saturday night, and lost no time in getting to bed. Yesterday morning persons in the house smelled gas and traced the odor to Purtell's room.

Broke Open the Door.

The door was broken open, and the young marine was found lying on the bed dead.

The investigation by the coroner showed Purtell had accidentally turned on the gas supply when he turned on the light. The fumes were not strong enough to be detected until he was unconscious from sleep, and he evidently died without a struggle.

The dead man enlisted in the Marine Corps in New Jersey about six years ago. He served at several posts in the North, and then came to this city. His education and ability attracted the notice of his superior officers, and he was detailed at headquarters. He was born in Lowry, a suburb of Atlanta, Ga., and was the son of the cashier of the Lowry National Bank.

VETERAN LIQUOR DEALER DEAD

Michael Clarke Passes Away in L Street Residence.

Served in the War of the Rebellion as a Member of the District Guard.

Michael Clarke, probably the oldest liquor dealer in Washington, died at his home, 230 L street northwest, yesterday of pneumonia after a brief illness. The funeral will be held from St. Stephen's Catholic Church to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Clarke had been a resident of Washington for more than half a century. Coming to this country from Ireland, an untalented youth, Mr. Clarke entered in the liquor business, starting his saloon at Twenty-first and L streets northwest.

At the outbreak of the civil war he gave up his business and entered the Union army, joining a regiment of District guards. At the close of the struggle he returned to his trade and established a business that stands to-day as among the largest in the city.

He is survived by six children, four sons and two daughters. His wife died twenty-eight years ago.

At the time of his death Mr. Clarke was reported to be worth more than a quarter of a million of dollars, much of it being in property bought in the city from time to time. While not a man of education, Mr. Clarke was reputed to have been possessed of a keen business sense and an ability to judge property values that was highly respected in real estate circles.

REV. DR. C. P. WILES RETURNS

Meets Cordial Reception from His Parishioners.

While on His Vacation Visited Birthplace and Spent Some Time at Seashore.

Cordial greetings and hearty handshakes marked the reception given the Rev. C. P. Wiles, pastor of Keller Memorial Lutheran Church, who has returned to Washington after a month's vacation.

Although no formal affair had been arranged, Mr. Wiles was given the most cordial reception of his ministerial career yesterday morning, when, after services, members of his congregation went forward and greeted him at the chancel rail.

His return was in the nature of a surprise, as only a few persons were informed of his arrival in Washington on Friday.

As the text of his sermon, the Rev. Mr. Wiles used "And they did all eat and were filled." Mrs. Boss, of Philadelphia, gave a solo, and "Holy, Holy, Holy," "Coronation," and "Stand Up for Jesus" were sung by the choir, composed of Miss Florence Little, Miss Ruth Totten, Miss Lillian Wines, Mrs. and Mrs. Archie Cummings, Mrs. William Bowdler, W. O. Little, Lewis Bixler, and Carl Bodenstien.

An announcement was made that services discontinued during August will be resumed Sunday next, including Sunday night services, Thursday night prayer meetings, and Junior Christian Endeavor meetings.

While on his vacation, Mr. Wiles visited his parents at his old home and birthplace, Frederick, Md. He spent a few days at Ocean City, N. J., where Mrs. Wiles will remain for a few days. During his stay at Ocean City, Mr. Wiles participated in a camp meeting at Mechanicsburg, Pa., where the Lutheran summer assembly was being held.

The Rev. Mr. Wiles has been pastor of Keller Memorial Lutheran Church since March. He came here from Pittsburgh, where for seven years he was pastor of Mount Zion Lutheran Church. During his absence the pulpit has been occupied by the Rev. Mr. Ruben Smith, of Butler, Pa.

NEWMAN WANTS FUNDS.

Democratic Committeeman Appeals for Campaign Contributions.

Edwin A. Newman, national committeeman for the District, has opened headquarters in the Munsey Building for the purpose of collecting campaign funds with which to aid in the Democratic campaign.

Mr. Newman appeals to District Democrats to contribute what they can, and says that any amount will be received. The sums given will be receipted for, and the contributor will receive a certificate from the national treasurer.

This action on the part of National Committeeman Newman is the result, it is said, of a conference he held with Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, when the latter was in Washington a short time ago.

In his appeal, Mr. Newman says that large sums are needed to defray the expenses of the campaign, and that a thousand and one other items. He adds that while the Democrats of the District have no vote, he hopes this will not hold them back and keep them from aiding in the work of the campaign. States by contributing small amounts to the Democratic campaign fund.

GERMAN EMPIRE GROWS.

Population Increased Fifty-three Per Cent in Thirty-seven Years.

Vice Consul James L. A. Burrell, at Magdeburg, has advised the State Department that the population of Germany at the middle of the present year amounted to 63,077,000, as against 42,997,000 at the middle of 1901 and 41,177,000 at the middle of 1905.

At the last regular census, December 1, 1925, the population of the empire amounted to 60,641,273, so that from that time there has been an increase in round numbers of 2,355,000. In 1888 the population in round numbers stood at 44,400,000. In the last ten years there has been an increase of about 16,247,000, or 35.5 per cent.

In 1871 there were 43,927,000 people counted, so that now the population shows an increase of 22,000,000, or more than 50 per cent since the founding of the present empire.

BOSTON SCENE OF REUNION

All Spanish War Veterans Will Gather There.

Banquet at Quincy House To-night Will Open the Week's Festivities.

Boston, Aug. 30.—Everything looks promising to-day for a most successful gathering in Boston this week of delegates from all parts of the United States for the fifth national encampment and reunion of Spanish war veterans, which will convene with a banquet at the Quincy House to-morrow night and continue with daily sessions in Faneuil Hall until Thursday evening.

The trouble resulting from the protest of the Merchants' Association against the street parade Wednesday has been smoothed over. The route of the parade has been changed to prevent the blocking of some of the principal business streets. There was no registration of delegates in some of the registry bureaus last night, because of the failure of a New York concern to have badges and credentials here on time.

BITEN BY UNMUZZLED DOG.

Boy Suffers Injury While Playing in Southeast Section.

Frank Homer, twelve years old, of 922 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, was bitten on the right leg by a dog shortly before noon yesterday. He was treated at Garg's drug store, Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue, and later removed to his home.

The dog belonged to James Garg, of 608 North Carolina avenue, and was said by the police to be unmuzzled. The owner was arrested shortly after the boy was bitten on a charge of failing to muzzle his dog. Later he was released on bond.

DIES FROM BURNS.

Negro Woman Overturns a Lighted Lamp in Pierce Court.

While intoxicated, Minnie Brooks, eighty-two years old, a negro, went to her room, at 81 Pierce court northwest, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and overturned a lighted lamp.

The clothing caught on fire and before other members of the household could extinguish the flames, she had been fatally burned on the body and face. She was rushed to the Homeopathic Hospital, where she died at 9 o'clock.

Coroner Nevitt may hold an inquest to-day.

MAY BAR CHINESE.

Birthplace in America Does Not Open Schools to Them.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—City Attorney Long has given to the board of education an opinion dealing with the admission of native-born Chinese children to the public schools other than schools established for them.

He holds that the question of nativity has no bearing on the matter and that Chinese children are Mongolians without respect to birthplace, but that if special schools of equal standing are not provided for them they are entitled to attend any school.

The opinion is given in response to a query from the board with reference to three native-born Chinese girls who wanted to attend schools other than Oriental schools.

BLIND BUT EXPERT BROOM MAKER DEAD

John T. Gibbons Succumbs to a Heart Attack.

EXPIRES SUDDENLY ON STAIRS

Cognomen of "Blind Broom Maker" Identified Him to His Friends and Acquaintances, to Whom He Was a Beloved and Interesting Character—Lived in Home for Sightless.

His sightless eyes closed in death, John T. Gibbons, seventy years old, known to his acquaintances as the "Blind Broom Maker," was found shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning on the stairs outside of his meager room, a victim to heart disease.

The aged man was stricken while ascending to his room after eating breakfast. His toll-worn hands were crossed on his breast, and his seamed and saddened face wore the peaceful look of the man who was not afraid to die.

Inmate of a Home.

For seven years the "Blind Broom Maker" lived at the home provided by the Aid Association for the Blind, at 25 E street northwest. He was foreman of the blind broom shop, and despite the handicap of his blindness was an excellent workman.

Little is known of the aged man's life before he entered the home, although from his demeanor and the stories he occasionally told, it is believed that at one time he occupied a higher station in life. That he had traveled and was well educated were shown when he told one of his stories, a personal note creeping into each narrative that showed he was really the hero of the tale.

So far as known, Gibbons had no relatives, and where he came from is also a thing unknown to his friends and to the officials of the home.

Tall and angular, slightly bent with the weight of his seventy years, the broom-maker, even in his squalid circumstances, showed traces of character and refinement. He drifted into the home broken in health, a tired wanderer. At first he could do nothing, for his affliction was new to him and he had not yet become accustomed to doing for himself without the aid of his eyes. Gradually he mastered the difficulties of his chosen vocation, and rapidly attained a dexterity that made him foremost of the little shop.

Gibbons never told much about himself, but intimated his affliction was something in the nature of a curse, brought on by some wild escapade of his earlier life. He seemed to accept his fate as a retribution for some wrong, real or fancied, that he had done some one in his earlier life.

Chafed at His Fate.

At first, say his friends, he chafed against his fate, but later came to accept it as his just due. He looked upon it as a penance, and came to delight in his work.

When he died the smile of peace on his face seemed to show that he considered his atonement complete. Without relatives, not knowing where his earthly remains would rest, the "blind broom-maker" died in peace.

BE POOR TO KNOW FRIENDS

Then You Will Get Help from the Right Sort.

And the Other Will Forsake Your Fortunes Like Rats a Sinking Ship.

"Losing one's money," said the man of fallen fortunes, "is not without its compensating comforts; for instance, in the discovery of one's real friends," says the Cleveland Leader.

"When I was rich I never knew for sure whether a man, being rich, was drawn to me because I was rich or because he thought I could help him. But it was easy to tell after I lost my money."

"The proudest gratification I got then I found in the loyalty of my family. One and all they stood by me with a gentle sympathy and unflinching devotion that has continued to the present moment and that I know will never fail—my strongest and most encouraging support."

"And then I began to make discoveries about my friends to discover which were fair weather friends, which were friends only when I could help them, and which were friends through thick and thin, and I found friendliness to exist as a bedrock enduring quality in rich and poor alike."

"There is this to be said about the rich man and his money. When a man has made money he hates to give it up. But I have known rich men who proved themselves stalwart staying friends indeed, who gave through the chances of the money ever coming back to them—if they thought of that at all—must have seemed very slim; men who gave with a prompt readiness that took all the sting out of the necessity of asking, with a willingness that was of itself most helpful and cheering."

"And then while I have had men drum me for small debts which I was able to pay off only very slowly, I have had men to whom I owed bigger debts say to me—and this out of sheer kindness and friendliness to me—to take away from me a burden: 'Forget it, old man, don't worry yourself over that. We'll just simply cross that off the books and call it square.' And—and this is not the least of the things that have soiled me—there are men, rich and men not rich, with whom my relations in the other day were friendly, who have treated me always ever since personally just the same, with absolutely unbroken kindness and consideration."

"So my misfortune has revealed to me friends whose real friendliness I might otherwise not have known, and the world seems kinder to me than it did before. We must all look out for ourselves, self-preservation is the first law of nature, but still the fact remains that the run of men are a pretty good lot, ready to help their neighbor."

"It remains only for a man to help himself, and by all this kindness to me, emboldened anew, I am, I confide to you, and with prospects most cheering, now making another try at fortune."

THE BALTIMORE GIRL.

From the Baltimore American Star.

It is remarked everywhere that Baltimore is essentially a city of homes. And this is because the Baltimore girl, in spite of a very healthy love of pleasure and the good things of earth, is essentially domestic. She loves the brilliant assemblages of fashion, the gay balls and parties, the lively dances, and the various amusements which go to make up social life, but her home is the center of her existence and her first thought. She may not be so up-to-date as others; she is lacking in ambition to shine in the professions and make her mark in public life, but this lack is no detriment to her beauty and charm, for, after all, the home is the unit of the nation, and it is the womanly woman who, through the home, molds that nation's destiny.

Fastens in Front.

It looks as though all the garments of this winter will fasten in front. Instead of the back. From shirt waists to ball gowns one sees the same method of fastening.

This is especially true of one-piece suits, of elaborate blouses, and of classic party gowns.
